

WEEK 2

DISCUSSION GUIDE

Our relationships with our families can sometimes feel a little bit like a way-too-competitive game night. With our families, sometimes it's fun . . . but other times, we might fight for first place, gang up on each other, betray each other, and walk away with frustration and hurt feelings. Families can be sources of joy and laughter but also stress and tension. But what if our families could be places where we could all help each other win? In this four-week series from the New Testament, we'll look at how the earliest followers of Jesus created a new kind of community as God's family. Through their example, we'll learn that there is enough when we share what we have — and if there isn't enough, God provides. We'll also learn that our actions can speak when words aren't enough and that God's love is always enough.

THIS WEEK

BIG IDEA

When there isn't enough, God provides.

BIBLE

Psalm 4; 1 John 3:1; Acts 2:42–44

- If you lived in Candy Land, who would you share your candy house with?
- Was there a time you didn't feel like you had enough of something? What was that like?
- What is something you wished your family helped you with more?
- What stuck out to you in the poem David wrote?
- What questions do you have about being called a child of God?
- Why might God not let us know how or when our needs will be met?
- Do you ever worry about resources or struggle to find hope in your family dynamic? If you feel comfortable, why is that?
- How would your life look differently if you could experience peace, courage, or the hope God provides?
- Read Acts 2:42–44. What would it look like to ask God to use you to help meet someone's needs?
- When you don't feel like you have enough this week, what steps would you need to take to talk to God about it?
